LAST CALL FOR DUES RENEWAL!

IF "2016" APPEARS, AT LEFT, ABOVE YOUR NAME
ON THE MAILING LABEL, YOUR MEMBERSHIP IS ENDING WITH THIS ISSUE. PLEASE RENEW TODAY!

On behalf of the Society, I wish you all a safe, healthy and happy Holiday Season and all the best for the New Year!

Printing deadlines for ads, articles, illustrations, comments, etc., is the first day of the month before the Quarter, e.g., 1 November 2016 for the First Quarter 2017 issue. Your cooperation in meeting these goals is appreciated. Editor.

Membership information and Dues ($25/yr.; $45/2 yrs.; $65/3 yrs., paid to "S.C.C.S.") should be sent to the Treasurer. Requests for back issues and information concerning this Journal, including submission of articles and advertisements and rates for same should be addressed to the Editor. Thanks!

Some members have expressed interest in an SCCS "listing", for what amounts to be "cut-down" souvenir cards, generally related to "ads" (printed on the backs) for upcoming ANA shows. In addition, some BEP and FM cards have been repurposed by overprinting. (See Lee Quast's article, p. 14.)

Personally, I do not see any category other than "private" issues, as I don't perceive any way to find out the who/when/where such cards were issued, nor do I see any way to identify these "alterations"! This was discussed previously in these pages (see SCJ 35:1 & 35:2).

I show here (right) an example of a "modified" BEP portrait card for SOJEX in 1973. It is 6"x6.5". I do not know what the relation is/was of President Wilson to the show, how many cards were produced, and/or by whom. I also don't know how many other legitimate BEP products have been modified in a similar fashion.

Therefore, unless there is a substantial documentation to prove otherwise, they will remain as "private"!

Well, how do you collect/house your cards? In albums? In boxes, cardboard or, hopefully, acid-free boxes. Personally, I use three-ring PVC-free binders with PVC-free sleeves. Maybe it's overkill, as I doubt that many of the cards were printed on acid-free stock! Some members, I believe, use the White Ace 3-ring binders, and purchased the annual updates which pictured the card or were blank. Hopefully, they used the plastic sleeves (PVC-free?) that the company provided. I have previously warned about using "photo-corner mounts," as over time, the adhesive will migrate. If you do use the White Ace albums, I have at least 5 that have been included with

Caveat emptor! Recently, on eBay, I came across this item pictured (below) of what appears to be seven BEP Veterans Day cards. It was being offered at $45! Reading the description, it mentioned only two cards! I questioned the seller, who replied there were only two cards, and the photo was in "error". The lot was withdrawn and I haven't seen anything since!

Back in the 2013 (SCJ 33-2), I submitted an article on the original engravings used in the designs of Military Payment Certificates (MPC). As I mentioned then, MPC were printed using commercial lithography and the easiest way obtain the engraved versions of MPC vignettes was to collect them on souvenir cards. More than a dozen match-ups were illustrated.

A few years have passed and a number of BEP souvenir cards have been issued since then with more engravings that were adapted for use on MPC. So time to add to the list.

Most MPC and souvenir card collectors are familiar with the Bureau's "Defenders of Freedom" intaglio print set and the follow-up "Defenders of Democracy," which feature the fronts and backs of some high value MPC. The initial series was one of the most popular set in the intaglio print program in recent memory. The MPC on all those cards, however, were printed in four-color offset — not engraved. My intention was to show the engravings used as the basis for MPC designs, so only a few from the Defenders series are appropriate to include here.

Here are the latest additions, with representative images of both MPC and their matching BEP engravings [Illustrated in on page numbered.]

Military Payment Certificate	Souvenir card(s)	Page
Series 521 $10 (back)	B307	C1
Series 681 $1 (front/back)	B312, B323, VD2014	C2
Series 681 fractional [5¢]	B244, B244A, B310, B321	C3
Series 681 $5	B310, B321, VD2014	C3
Series 681 $10 (back)	Veterans Day 2014 card	C4

Additional notes:

On B307, the top right vignette of "Justice" was engraved by Marcus Baldwin. Note that on the MPC the shield has been altered slightly to resemble a coin.

On both B310 and B321, the submarine vignette, engraved by Edward R. Felver in 1966, is an enlarged version of the one on B244. Also the sailor vignette on both these prints, engraved by Joseph S. Creamer, Jr. in 1966, is reversed relative to the MPC. It's uncertain which format shows the original orientation.

The vignettes on B312 and B323 – "Four Aircraft in Flight" and "Head of Pilot" – were both engraved by Charles A. Brooks in 1966. It appears that these vignettes, all produced the same year, may have been in anticipation of use on MPC.

Each year, as part of their annual Veterans Day program, the BEP produces a special souvenir card, which is not released to the general public. The 2014 Veterans Day card contains most of the intaglio engravings used in the "Defenders" series, some in smaller versions. It also includes a vignette of a tank, [below] not found in an engraved form anywhere else. On this card, the sailor faces left, as on the MPC.

The story behind the production of the 1985 souvenir card for the International Paper Money Convention, Cherry Hill, New Jersey, is this. As shown [below], the card featured a mock-up of a $10 Series of 1882 note from The Farmers National Bank of West Chester, Pennsylvania (2857). Collector Nelson Aspen loaned Bureau director Robert Leuver a high grade $10 from the A plate position so Bureau personnel could obtain a high resolution negative of it to use as a model. The plate from which Aspen's note had been printed was made in 1883, and the subjects on it were made from ABNC full-face die 1925.

Bureau personnel used their full-face $10 die 2988, with Bureau imprint, as their starting point to make the souvenir card. From it, they made a one-subject nickel plate using the modern electrolytic duplication process. Using old component rolls, they next rolled the American Bank Note Company imprint over the Bureau imprint to match the proof, and added the "printed at" statement.

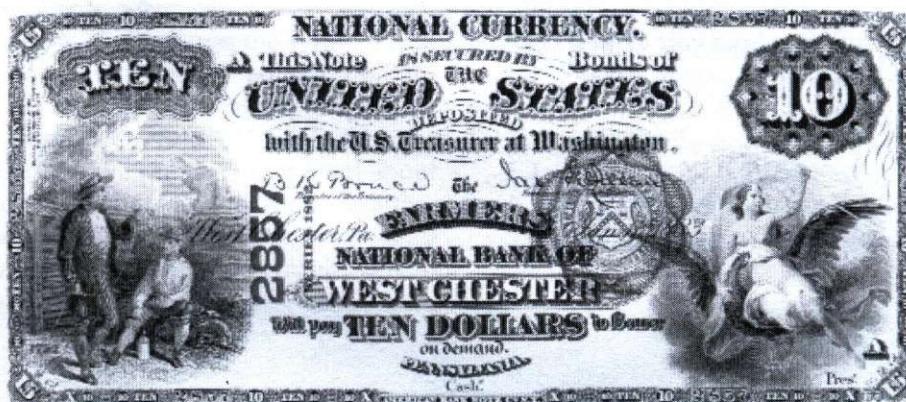

This plate had everything except the bank title block, treasury signatures and plate letters. The dies and rolls containing those elements had been destroyed long ago. Consequently, they used the negative of the Aspen's note to make a photolithograph plate containing the missing elements.

The cards were printed using the intaglio plate for the common elements. The bank-specific items were overprinted in black from the lithographic plate, and the brown seal, charter number and series date were overprinted from a second lithographic plate containing the brown devices.

It is easy to distinguish between the parts of the souvenir card that were printed from the intaglio plate and those overprinted from the lithographic plates. The intaglio engravings feel rough to the touch; the lithographed elements smooth.

Everything was fine except for one minor detail. Use

IPMC '85 CHERRY HILL, NEW JERSEY

This engraving, printed from a plate made from portions of the original master die, is a replica of the face of the $10 National Currency Note of the Second Charter period, Series 1882. This face features two vignettes. The vignette on the left depicts Benjamin Franklin drawing electricity from a storm with a kite and metal key. "Franklin and Electricity 1752" was engraved by Alfred Jones and Louis Delnoce for the American Bank Note Company. The right vignette depicts "America Seizing Lightning" by artist Theodore A. Liebler, which was engraved by Charles K. Burt.

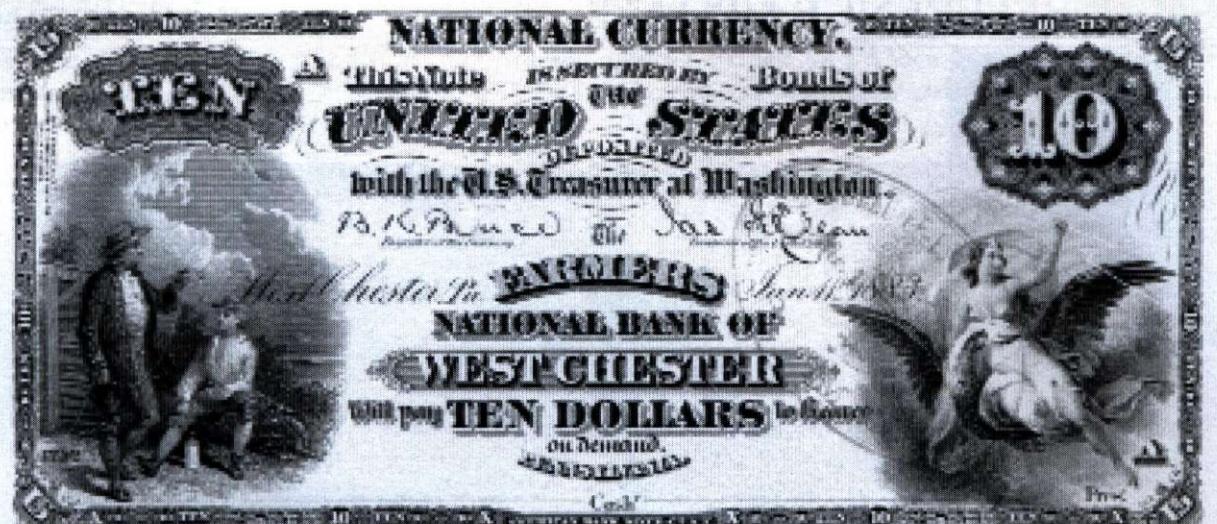

The note features the bank name and charter number of "The Farmers National Bank of West Chester, Pennsylvania." During this period National Banks were granted charters by the Comptroller of the Currency, Office of the U.S. Treasurer, Department of the Treasury, for a renewable 20-year period.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing is pleased to issue this souvenir card in honor of the International Paper Money Convention, November 14-17, 1985, Cherry Hill, New Jersey, as sponsored by the Society of Paper Money Collectors and the Currency Club of Chester County.

of BEP 2988 yielded a hidden star on the souvenir card, a feature that was not available on $10 Series of 1882 notes until 17 years after the A-B-C-A plate for the West Chester bank had been made! Even the BEP personnel couldn't perfectly counterfeit their own product.

(One other small detail was the lack of fine lines for the bank president and cashier to sign on.)

[Note: The A-B-C-A refers to the plate letters on the sheet of four notes. This was the first $10-10-10-20 sheet, so the plate letters were A-B-C for the three $10s and A for the $20. Ed.]

Auction No. 38: Bids due 22 October 2016

Bid early, bid wisely.

In the first quarter 2015 issue of the Journal, Greg Alexander introduced us to, as he called it "Old Cards, New Uses". And Larry Dodson sent in two more examples shown in the Second Quarter 2015 issue. I call them "ANA Advertising Cards" or "ANA Cut-Down Cards". Greg illustrated several and told us why the ANA was using them. This was recently brought to my attention when I saw an email from him. I was interested as I have accumulated them over the years. I went to many of the shows and picked them up from the ANA tables.

They used their surplus cards as advertising for upcoming ANA shows. And with the great intaglio images (obsolete banknotes) on them, they make neat collectibles on their own. Over the years I have accumulated a large group of them and am now motivated to list them. I was also once recruited to bring to the ANA show in Chicago-1991 a very large supply of ABNC money souvenir cards. I believe they were Grover Criswell's accumulation. Filled my car up! Many of those were then cut-down for advertising future shows, but I would wager they still have a lot of them.

Greg did not have a copy of the cut-down for the ANA show in Santa Clara, CA spring 1996 so I sent him a scan. Incidentally, this show was changed to Tucson and I also have the adv. card for that show. If Greg or anyone else wants to research these further, I suggest contacting John Wilson, former President and current active promoter of ANA. He and Nancy do much volunteer work for the ANA and I wouldn't doubt they had something to do with the planning of these. He is also member of SCCS.

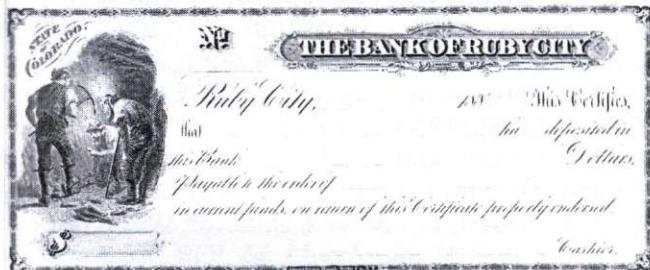

There are too many to illustrate at this time, but that would be a good project. I know a number of people collect them. Our editor, Bill Kriebel, indicated he was not ready to number these cards and I agree. However there is another ANA cut-down card area that s/b included in our numbering system. The ANA Museum Souvenir cards. While they are cut-downs they are very specifically made as museum souvenirs. There are three of them known as shown by Greg in his article. Two of them are already in the SCCS system and the third should be also!

Here is my listing of known cards. If anyone has others, I would appreciate hearing from them:

Ruby City was a typical small mining settlement in Colorado during the mining fever days of the late 1800s and early 1900s. It was a short-lived camp, so named for the ruby-colored silver ore found there. Platted in 1879 less than a mile from Irwin, another mining camp, the division between the two vanished in less than a year and the name "Irwin" prevailed. At the peak of activities, the 3,000-odd souls encamped in Irwin had several hotels, a theatre, the bank, numerous general stores, AND 26 saloons on its main street. Pay dirt gave out in 1883-4 and the area was quickly deserted. Notice that this Certificate of Deposit could be credited to one person or more than one, depending upon the printed "ha" "(under the date) being completed as "has" or "have."

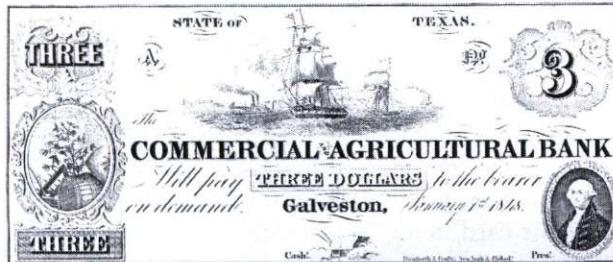

This certifies that the Banknote Intaglio printing on the face of this document was printed in 1982 by the American Bank Note Company.

The Cataract City Bank was located in Paterson, New Jersey and was organized in 1852. It operated for only four years before it failed. Its' notes were engraved by Danforth, Wright & Co. The centre vignette on the $2 note shows an early view of Niagara Falls from the Canadian side at the right with the American Falls shown at the left.

Arizona Territory was settled long after government taxes made private banknotes obsolete. Yet, a shortage of United States currency caused a number of traders and merchants to issue their own script, e.g. the Lord & Williams one dollar note reproduced above. Dr. Charles H. Lord and W.W. Williams migrated to Arizona Territory in the 1860's. In 1875 they opened the first bank in the territory which they operated along with a thriving mercantile business. Between 1875 and 1879 Lord & Williams issued over $100,000 in their own script. The note shown above was printed by Thalmessinger, Stationers, New York City. As was common practice in those days, the design was copied from another banknote company's work. Model for the Indian, reproduced to the left from an original die, was by the Continental Bank Note Company, now incorporated into the American Bank Note Company, New York.

MORE DISNEY CARDS

Stephen Patrick

In the last journal of the SCCS, I did an article about a set of private souvenir cards done in the spring of 2016 as a reward to Disney annual pass holders. The three cards were for the three months of the Epcot lawn and garden festival. I was able to obtain a set from Craig Lawson, a new member to our society.

I showed the cards to my stamp club a month ago, and one of the members Bob Dowrick said yes, he had seen them before. In fact he had an extra set. He brought them to the club Thursday, and I was delighted to see that they were entirely different from the previous ones. Bob sold these to me at a very reasonable price.

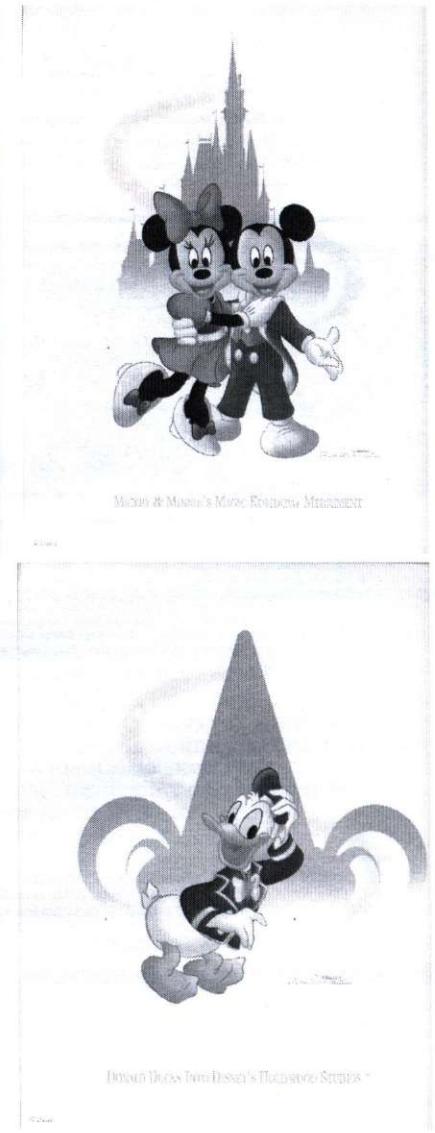

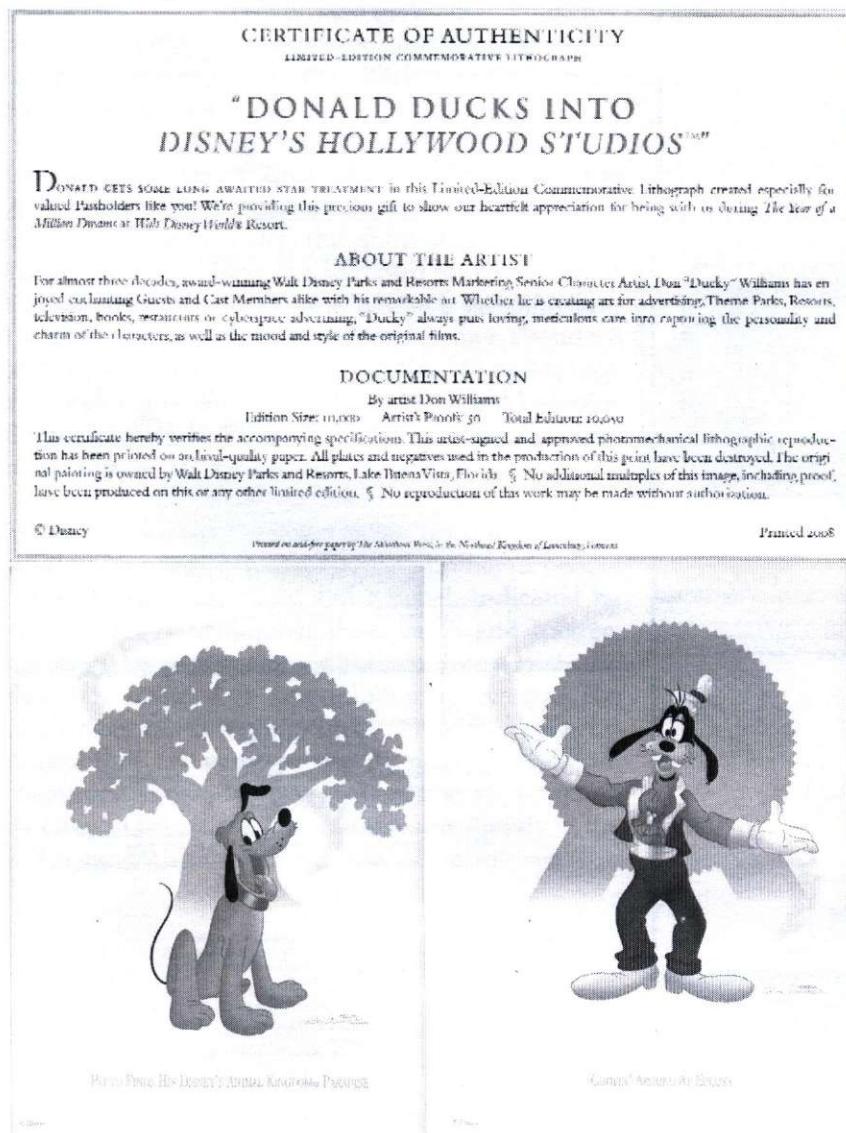

There are four cards, one for each park. There is also a certificate of authenticity. The information tells that these cards were produced in 2008 in an edition of 10,000 with an additional 50 artist proofs. The artist is Don "Ducky" Williams and was created to show appreciation during The Year of a Million Dreams at Walt Disney World Resort [2008].

The cards are printed by The Stinehour Press, in the Northeast Kingdom of Lunenburg, Vermont, by photomechanical lithographic reproduction on archival-quality paper. In addition, the size of the cards are 9 by 12 inches, so they are going to be fun to store. These are not engraved and are not from a security printer, but they do fit the definition of what a souvenir card is for. And Disney has some of the tightest security and protection that I know.

Now for more research. How many other cards like these has Disney done? Are they showing up on the secondary market? Who got the artist proofs? Have any of you ever seen these or some like them?

[As the illustrations are reduced in size and in b&w, I did not get authorization to print them. Ed.]
